Name	Version	Style	Last Updated	Status
OUT_WMS_SYNCLOCATION_VP	1.0.0	Scheduled Orchestration	Nov 8th, 2022 04:23:42 PM CST	Active TRACE WITH PAYLOAD
OUT_WMS_SYNCITEM_VP	1.0.0	Scheduled Orchestration	Nov 8th, 2022 03:06:57 PM CST	Active TRACE WITH PAYLOAD

A message states: 'Exported integration does not contain connection credentials. You may provide this data before activating the integration.' There is a checkbox 'Include Asserter Recordings (if any)' which is checked. A warning message says: 'Asserter recording has been deprecated, Oracle recommends not using this feature.' At the bottom are buttons for 'Cancel', 'Import', and 'Import and Configure'.

Once Import is done, validate all the components of each package by clicking Integrations.

The screenshot shows the Oracle Integration console after the import. The search bar now shows '13 Integrations'. The table of integrations is updated with a new entry.

☒ Contribute integration mappings to Oracle Recommends. ?

Oracle Asserter: When Asserter recording is enabled, payloads will be captured and integration instances will be recorded. Recordings can be played later and maximum twelve recordings will be maintained for an integration.

Oracle Asserter feature not supported for this integration. Please refer the documentation for supported types.

Tracing: When tracing is enabled, integration activity can be viewed in the Activity Stream.

☒ Enable Tracing

☒ Include Payload

When payload is included, sensitive information from the payload is written into log files, which can be downloaded and viewed. This may pose a security risk, and also slow down your system. Not recommended in a production environment.
